New Hampshire (NH) was one of six (6) states selected through a competitive application process by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) to participate in the 2009 National Federation of Families for Children's Mental Health Policy Academy. NH will send a delegation of six (6) representatives. The purpose of the Academy is to assist States with the development and implementation of public policies that will make systems more consumer and family-driven. Specifically, NH seeks to develop and support a service model whereby youth with the most intensive mental health service needs would have access to culturally responsive, family and youth driven, individualized services without traditional categorical "silos", rule or finance barriers to accessing a full array of supports and services.

"I have read RSA 15-B and hereby swear or affirm that the foregoing information is true and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief."
